PARTY STANDS ON DRY ISSUES STILL UNKNOWN

Smith Election Likely to Cause G. O. P. to Work for Dry Support

MAY SIDESTEP QUESTION

Local Situations Make Definite Position Difficult for Two Parties

Washington—Whether prohibition is an issue depends on who is nominated by the Democratic party. If it is Al Smith, then, the Republicans will make an issue of it wherever they think it desirable and probably will use their heaviest ammunition in the so-called "wet" states. This is the view held by many leaders of both parties commenting on the announcement that Senator Borah of Idaho, intends to force the issue on dry enforcement.

If Al Smith isn't nominated, then the policy which leaders of the major parties have been advocating—to eliminate reference to dry enforcement and take that for granted—probably will be followed.

Inside the Democratic party, the prohibition question is acute, with many of the leaders from the dry states who feel that the nomination of Governor Smith would be unfortunate. In sense the declaration by Senator Borah is viewed by pro-Smith leaders as an opportunity to them to advance the cause of their candidates as they would welcome an out-and-out issue on prohibition.

MEET MANY PUZZLES

But the problem is not as simple as it appears, for each party has local situations in which it is wisest to soft pedal the prohibition question. In New Jersey, for instance, Senator Edge, Republican, is "wet" and in New York state Senator Wadsworth felt compelled to make his last campaign on the "wet" side. In the New York, Republicanism has been torn by internal warfare on the subject. Massachusetts is another state where the Republicans would hope to avoid the cleavage that the issue makes.

Should someone be nominated on the Democratic ticket who has not been conspicuous in the prohibition fight, it would be a probable safe bet that the Republicans would be glad to see the necessity of stirring up discussion in eastern states. The Democrats, however, seem bent on nominating Governor Smith—at least this is what the Republicans for the most part believe. Senator Borah of Idaho, reflects the sentiment of various organizations which believe that if the Democratic government is really in the lead for a presidential nomination, it is time to bring prohibition out as the real and underlying issue on which to defeat such a candidate.

TAKE CAL'S VIEWS

President Coolidge has made repeated declarations for law enforcement and the anti-Sabon League in the main accepted his administration as one committed to law enforcement. There is every reason to believe that Messrs. Hughes, Hoover, Davies and Lowden would stand on the Coolidge record in the hope of retaining the dry support. So the movement in reality is aimed at the Democrats and is a warning to them that the dry organizations will take a hand in the campaign as never before. Through the Republican convention, however, meets before the Democrats, it is unlikely that the wording of a platform plank will make much difference one way or the other. What will count will be if Al Smith will make prohibition an issue. The naming of any other candidate on the Democratic ticket will not make much difference any more conspicuous than any other public questions. Candidates, not platform planks, will make the issue.

MARINES BATTLE NICARAGUAN BANDITS

BURGLARS GET $105 IN FOUR COUNTY RAIDS

Take $100 from Home near Appleton and $5 from Three Places in Hortonville

Burglars entered three business places in Hortonville between 12 and 7 o'clock Wednesday morning, blew open one safe, found another open and failed in their effort to open a third—but for all their trouble they secured less than $5 in cash. An unknown man who entered the home of Henry Kraus on Highway 47, between 10 and 11 o'clock Tuesday morning had better luck however, as he escaped with more than $100 in cash.

The three places entered at Hortonville were: Platten Produce company, where $4.12 and several valuable old coins were taken; Diestler Lumber company office and Oak and Marks Grain Elevator office, where the burglars secured nothing for their efforts.

WORK AFTER MIDNIGHT

Mr. Platten said he had remained at the office until 9 o'clock Tuesday night but he thought the burglars did not start their operations until after 12 o'clock, when the telephone operator at the Chicago and Northwestern depot, just across the street from the office, quits work. He said the telephone operator would have

MONTANAN PREDICTS POLITICAL REVOLT

Middle West Will Rise Against Party Unless Farm Relief is Provided, He Says

Madison—(AP)—A political uprising in the middle west "which will assume the proportions of a revolution," should the Republican party nominate a man whose views on the McNary-Haugen bill are the same as those of President Coolidge, was predicted by Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Montana, in an interview here Wednesday.

Senator Walsh, who is classified politically as a dry, believes that neither party "is likely or ought to make a declaration which will be characterized as 'a wet or dry plank.'" Should an outstanding "wet" be nominated on either ticket, Mr. Walsh thinks it would be "bone head" politics for his supporters to force a wet plank into the party platform. As far as a dry plank, Senator Walsh believes "the dry ought to be satisfied with conditions as they are without any further declaration, in view of the fact that the drys in congress outnumber the wets six to one."

The wet and dry question will not be an issue in the next campaign, says Senator Walsh, unless an outstanding "wet" is nominated, in which case he thinks it is bound to be an issue regardless of the platforms.

The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway project is "the most beneficial project ever proposed," he said. "It means a reduction of 19 cents a bushel in the cost of transporting grain from Chicago, Milwaukee and Duluth to Liverpool, Hamburg, and other European ports. To the farmers of Montana alone, it would mean a saving of three and a half million dollars a year in transportation costs."

The legislatures of all states except New York have endorsed the project, and since 16 middle western states are vitally interested in it, treaty arrangements with Canada will undoubtedly be approved by the senate, as soon as replies are received from the Canadian government to proposals which have been advanced by the department of state, said Senator Walsh.

BERGER IS NAMED DEBS' SUCCESSOR

Badger Congressman Is New Chairman of Socialist National Committee

New York—(AP)—Election of Congressman Victor Berger to succeed the late Eugene V. Debs as chairman of the national executive committee of the Socialist party was announced at the local headquarters of the Socialist organization Tuesday night.

Other issues to be espoused by the Socialists in their 1928 campaign include national ownership of water power and unemployment insurance, Berger said.

The newly elected Socialist party leader predicted the nomination and election of Alfred E. Smith to the presidency in 1928.

CONVICT SUSPECT LOSES BOTH LEGS IN ACCIDENT

Janessville—(AP)—Marvin Korber, 23, believed to be an escaped federal prisoner, is in a local hospital with both legs amputated at the knee, following a railroad accident. Both feet were cut off when he was run over by a train while attempting to steal a ride Sunday night and further amputation was necessary Tuesday.

Police are attempting to establish that Korber is a man sentenced to ten years in Leavenworth prison a year ago, following his arrest with a stolen car in South Dakota. He was transferred to Chillicothe, Ohio, and is from there having escaped.

He is a native of Belmont, Wis., where he was suspected of two bank robberies and a mail sack theft 14 months ago. Nothing was missing in the bank thefts, except receivers which were identified when Korber and another youth, George Mates, were caught in Spink-co, South Dakota.

Four Members of Constabulary Killed in Search for Missing Aviators

Managua, Nicaragua—(AP)—After severe fighting with a force of 300 outlaws who suddenly closed in on them, a patrol of 40 American marines and constabulary has escaped from irregulars operating in the Nueva Segovia department. Sixty-seven irregulars were killed or wounded and four members of the constabulary were killed in the battle.

The fighting occurred when the patrol tried to penetrate bandit strongholds in search of two marine corps aviators, Second Lieut. E. A. Thomas and Sergeant Frank E. Dowdell.

The patrol had made a forced march to the region near Quilali in an effort to find the missing fliers, who crashed near Suroitilla mountain while dropping bombs on General Augusto Sandino and his followers early this month. The aviators were seen running from their burning plane. They signaled that they were not hurt. Since then scouting expedition have been unable to locate the fliers.

Cus Hersckorn, motorcycle officer, arrested Metoxen at 11:20 Tuesday morning on S. Cherry-st. His car was zig-zagging from one side of the road to the other. He was lodged in a cell at the police station until Wednesday morning.

FORMER JUDGE FIRED BY MARQUETTE DEAN

Milwaukee—(AP)—Clifton Williams, dean of the law school of Marquette university, has discharged A. C. Backus, former judge and newspaper publisher, as a member of the faculty. Williams said the dismissal was because Backus had been instrumental in having published propaganda reflecting upon himself and the university in connection with the civic center project.

Coolidge Lauds Victor Of Gettysburg Battle

Washington—(AP)—According to the monument in memory of General George Gordon Meade from the state of Pennsylvania on behalf of the government Wednesday, President Coolidge lauded the victor of Gettysburg as a "responsible and reliable commander" one of whose inspired confidence and could be trusted. The monument is in the botanical gardens near the foot of the capitol.

NAB TOMMY O'CONNOR, BUT NOT SLAYER WHO FLED FROM GALLOWES

St. Paul—(AP)—One too many "Tommy O'Connors" of Chicago, led to an erroneous report Wednesday that "Terrible Tommy" O'Connor, whom Chicago authorities want to hang for murder, had been caught for a second time in St. Paul.

Picked up by Minneapolis police on a drunkenness charge, the unsought Tommy, sometimes known as "Goofy Tommy," was mistakenly identified by a postal inspector as the one and only "Terrible Tommy" and he so notified Chicago authorities.

Came a flood of news dispatches, police calls and other messages from Chicago, all seeking further information and K. M. Huggins, chief postal inspector here, put in a busy morning informing all of the error in identification.

ASK LOWDEN TO OUTLINE VIEWS ON FARM RELIEF

Senator Nye Wants Candidate to Explain Position for Norris Bloc

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The newly-formed group of non-organization Republican senators from the west is standing by Senator Norris of Nebraska as its presidential nominee and, while ready to listen to the cause of Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, wants more information from him as to his views on western problems.

Senator Nye of North Dakota, one of the five senators now belonging to the Norris cluster, made this clear in a speech here Tuesday night before the Washington Chamber of Commerce in which he asked Mr. Lowden to clarify his position regarding the interests of the west.

WANTS OUTLINE OF VIEWS

The North Dakota senator said he did not wish to embarrass the candidacy of Mr. Lowden or to eliminate him from his considerations, but he thought it possible that Lowden "might soon see fit to clarify his position."

Meanwhile this insurgent group, which includes Senator Borah of Idaho, Brockheart of Iowa, and Frazier of North Dakota, is busy working out a new farm relief bill which they hope will be acceptable to Borah, an opponent of the vetoed McNary-Haugen measure. The new bill will eliminate the controversial equalization fee provision which met the disapproval of President Coolidge and of Senator Borah as well.

BLAME LACK OF RELIGION FOR POVERTY IN AMERICA

Racine—(AP)—Parents who have been lax in the religious discipline of their children are to blame for the poverty of 10,000,000 persons in this country, bishops of the episcopal church agreed at the opening session of the midwest province of that church here Tuesday night.

"If families are destitute in this wealthy land," said Dr. Harrison Paul of Marquette university, Milwaukee, "it cannot be laid to economic disadvantages nor to ill luck. Too often it is due to lack of moral fibre that was not instilled in the unfortunate poor during their childhood days."

VETERAN CONDUCTOR DIES AT ST. PAUL HOME

St. Paul, Minn.—(AP)—William E. Aldrich, 82, a railroad conductor for 40 years, and who 10 years ago drove a steam locomotive between Stevens Point and Berlin, Wis., died here Monday.

MURDERS WIFE, WOUNDS YOUTH AND HIMSELF

Milwaukee Man Shoots Estranged Mate in Presence of Jewish Worshipers

BULLETIN

Milwaukee—(AP)—Gordon Goetzinger, 16, wounded by Fred Schulze, who killed his wife and then turned the gun on himself, died at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Milwaukee—(AP)—Encountering his estranged wife in front of a Jewish temple as hundreds of worshipers were filing into the building, Fred Schulze, 31, Tuesday night shot and killed the woman. He turned the weapon on Gordon Goetzinger, 16, who was accompanying Mrs. Schulze, and wounded him, probably mortally. Then he shot himself and he fell seriously wounded.

The attack took place in front of Temple Beth-El. Two hundred worshipers heard the rifle shots and came into the street in time to see the man, tall and the husband's attempt at suicide. The dead woman for the last two months, since she began divorce proceedings, had lived at the home of Walter Goetzinger.

At Emergency hospital Wednesday morning it was said that Schulze will probably survive to stand trial for murder. Mrs. Schulze was shot through the head and death was instantaneous. Goetzinger was struck in the chest with one of the first shots fired. Only the length of the rifle barrel prevented Schulze from killing himself. The bullet for himself tore through one eye, making him blind in that member.

DOESN'T TELL CHILDREN

"The Schulze children, John, 12, Mary, 10, and Jeanne, 7, were still in ignorance of the tragedy Wednesday morning for Mrs. Goetzinger, despite her grief over her son, told them that their mother had gone away for a short visit.

Police see evidence of careful planning in Schulze's actions Tuesday. He made a will in a lawyer's office Tuesday afternoon, rented an automobile, later and then he was in wait near the Goetzinger home in the hope of seeing his wife come out.

Mrs. Schulze had made preparations to place the children, whose custody she had, pending final settlement of the divorce action in a children's home at Wauwatosa.

MRS. WRIGHT FAILS IN EFFORT TO SEE GOVERNOR

Madison—(AP)—Miriam Noel Wright, divorced wife of Frank Lloyd Wright, famous architect, who was recently in Wisconsin attempting to obtain warrants charging a statutory crime against Mr. Wright, failed in her attempt to see Governor Zimmerman in Chicago Tuesday. While she was in Madison, Mrs. Wright asked Governor Zimmerman to investigate the refusal of District Attorney C. H. Knudsen of Iowa-co to issue a warrant for Mr. Wright's arrest. Despite several attempts to obtain this warrant, it was not issued before Mrs. Wright returned to Chicago, where she had a week ago. She apparently wished to speak further with the governor on the matter of the investigation.

Governor Zimmerman said a report from Chicago that she had pursued him through the servant's quarters or kitchen of his hotel in an attempt to see him was probably overdrawn.

FAIL TO FIND BODY OF GREEN BAY MAN

Americans To Pry Into Secrets Of Antiquity

New York—(AP)—Three new planes for recovering secrets of antiquity were under way Wednesday. In New York the anonymous donation of $2,000,000 to the most costly archaeological enterprise ever undertaken was announced, when plans to excavate 25 acres on which stood the Acropolis of Athens, famous market place of antiquity, were made public.

HITS AT SMITH

WILLIAM D. UPSHAW

UPSHAW SAYS SOUTH WON'T BACK AL SMITH

"Hero of Outlawed Liquor Interests" Certain to Meet Defeat, He Says

La Crosse—(AP)—With the possible exception of one state, the south will be solidly against Governor Al Smith of New York, if nominated by the Democratic party, former Congressman William D. Upshaw of Georgia, declared Tuesday night at the International Purity conference, Louisiana might vote for the New York governor, Mr. Upshaw said, but the remaining states south of the Mason-Dixon line will unite solidly against any attempt to place him in the White House.

"The vote in our section," he declared, "will be as solidly against him in November, 1928, as it will be in the Democratic national convention. Personally I think Governor Smith is one of the outstanding personalities of this generation and it seems a pity that he should shut the door of the White House in his own face by leading his state to a break with the support of the eighteenth amendment."

INSPIRES BOYHOOD

"In face of the fact that he has inspired American boyhood by climbing from obscurity of the 'east side' to his present position of power and influence, it cannot be denied that he had made himself the center of a national tragedy by becoming the undeniable hero of the outlawed liquor interests of this country," said the former congressman.

"We are willing," he declared, "for sober, God-fearing Republicans, Democrats and Progressives to sit around the council table and give and take on economic questions, but God helping us, we will never surrender an inch concerning the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment. The forces that defy and betray the church of God are now on the side of those who would repeal the prohibition law if they could. But, unable to repeal it, they join in a campaign of nullification."

Mr. Upshaw stated that he believed that it is the duty of the government to stand by the duty of every church, every school and every home to strike down the "voices of impurity and immorality," which he declared are crouching to spring upon our children and destroy the future citizens of the country.

MAINE TO KEEP DIRECT PRIMARY VOTE SYSTEM

Portland, Me.—(AP)—Maine has chosen to retain the direct primary. By a vote of nearly two to one, the state, in a special election Tuesday, rejected a referendum seeking a return to the caucus and convention system of nominating candidates for public office. With 49 small precincts missing out of the 433 election precincts in the state, the vote stood: for repeal, 32,456; against, 58,387.

CONSUL TELLS OF MEETING ON RANCH IN 1921

Oil Operator Had No Connection With Canadian Company, Attorney Claims

CALL SURVEY EXPERTS

Teapot Dome Lease Not Discussed at Fall's Home in 1921, Defense Says

Washington—(AP)—The taking of testimony was begun Wednesday in the criminal conspiracy trial of Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall with a promise by counsel for Sinclair that there would be no evidence to show the wealthy oil operator had any connection with the Continental Trading Co., Ltd., of Canada, through whom Fall is accused of having received a large batch of Liberty bonds after the leasing of the Teapot Dome Naval oil reserve to Sinclair.

Moreover the two women and ten men hearing the case were told that Sinclair never had a bond with this company, and that he never passed a bond the company possessed, as the government contends in the indictment charging conspiracy in the lease of the reserve.

"It will be made clear, Sinclair never had anything to do with a bond of the description given by the government," declared Martin W. Littleton of New York, "and that he never passed a bond to Fall or any one in behalf of Fall."

MEET ON RANCH IN '21

Sinclair first approached Fall regarding the lease of the Teapot Dome reserve during his celebrated Christmas visit to the then interior secretary's new Mexico ranch in 1921, Mr. Littleton declared Wednesday before the jury began the testimony.

Resuming his opening statement, begun Tuesday to the jury, Mr. Littleton said that during the latter part of that visit Sinclair asked Fall if he intended to lease naval reserve No. 3 (Teapot Dome).

Fall replied that he was having an investigation made and that so far as he was concerned he would make no determination about a lease until the investigation was completed, the attorney asserted.

Sinclair went to see Fall about Osage Indian land leases in Oklahoma, he continued. The purpose of the visit was not to take up the lease of Teapot Dome that Sinclair finally obtained, leading to the charges that the two men had conspired together against the government and that Fall had received large sums of money as a result of the transaction.

Under the announced plans of government counsel, George O. Smith and George W. Holland of the Geological department, were to be among the first witnesses called. They were to be sworn in and asked to testify concerning the geological features of Teapot Dome and to introduce a map of the territory, with Smith explaining why it was set aside as a natural storage place for navy fuel. It was planned too, that the executive order under which the territory was transferred from the jurisdiction of the navy to the interior department should be detailed to the jurors by Stephen H. Quigley of the state department, and that Captain H. A. Stuart of the navy should identify correspondence relating to the case.

FIVE BADGER STUDENTS NAMED RHODES SCHOLARS

Madison—(AP)—The five men to represent the University of Wisconsin for Rhodes scholarship honors, announced by Dean Scott Gowen of the university, are: A. Hamilton Boatright, Madison; Louis Behr, Rockford, Ill.; Carl G. Jansky, Madison; Clyde Kluckhohn, Lemars, Iowa, and John C. Steadman, Sturgeon Bay.

Boatright, Behr and Steadman are Letters and Science students. Jansky is a graduate of that school. The Kluckhohn is a business student. The men were selected from nine applicants for the honors. At the December meeting of the Wisconsin Rhodes committee composed of former Rhodes scholars, the Wisconsin representative will be selected. Arthur B. Doe, Milwaukee, is chairman of the committee.

WANTS MORE INTEREST IN BADGER ELECTIONS

Manitowish—(AP)—Until Wisconsin voters take a more general interest in election of representatives in the legislature, men who control $10,000,000 of their money, and continue that interest, they can expect little relief from burdens which they may incur, declared John D. Ober, speaker of the assembly of the last legislature, in addressing the Wisconsin legislature in convention here Wednesday. Mr. Ober said the people made the mistake of electing legislators and then leaving them all about them. With over 11,000,000 in assets, he said, it was not to be wondered that legislation is not perfect, he said.

RUSSIANS FRANKLY TRYING TO INSTALL COMMUNISM IN EAST

Government Disclaims Responsibility but Stalin Admits Activity

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh of a series of articles on present-day conditions in Russia by Jerome Davis, a member of the faculty of the Yale University Divinity School, who has spent the summer in Russia as special correspondent for the Post-Crescent NEA Service.

BY JEROME DAVIS

Moscow—The Russian government claims it has kept its official hands off the revolution in China.

This is not true of the Communist Internationale. It has been working steadily in the kaleidoscopic events within China. The Internationale thinks it has done what it could to help the masses of the Chinese people, with advice, with emissaries and probably with money.

On March 27 the executive committee of the Internationale published an appeal to the world entitled:

"The Horrible Wholesale Murder by the 'Civilized' Barbarians in China; Organize the Defense Against the Imperialist Robbery!"

"A great and inhuman crime has been committed. The 'civilized' barbarians, headed by the British and American imperialists, have destroyed one of the chief towns of China, a bombardment from long range guns. The working class quarters have been destroyed and the corpses are piled high in the streets."

"CHRISTIAN DIPLOMACY"

"Christian" diplomacy, which pretends to follow the principles of equality does not regard the Chinese as human beings. The people of Asia and Africa must recognize that. The Negroes, the Malays, the Chinese, the hundreds of millions of toilers who groan under the oppression of European and American capitalism must recognize that. The Communist Internationale calls you to the struggle against imperialist violence. Raise the banner of protest against the insanity of the imperialist haughtiness."

"You must be with the Chinese revolution with all your forces, with all the means in your power! Down with the war against China, rightly struggling to be free! Down with the hangmen of the Chinese revolution! Long live the organized defense against the imperialist robbery! Long live the victory of the Chinese people!"

WORLD APPEAL

On April 15, after Chiang-Kai-Shek had turned against the Chinese Communists, the executive committee of the Communist Internationale sent out a world appeal closing with these lines:

Do not believe the lies of the Bourgeois press.

Down with Chiang-Kai-Shek and the other renegades and traitors, the organizers of the shootings.

Long live the workers of Shanghai.

Long live the revolutionary Kuomintang.

Long live the Communist party of China.

In an official booklet on "The Tactical Line of the Communist Internationale in China," the executive committee of the internationale gave definite instructions to the party in China about methods of organization and has not rested content with trying to guide and control the Chinese Party. It recently adopted a resolution calling on radical groups throughout the world to act.

STALIN'S POLICIES

Stalin, the real leader of the Communist Party, in a very frank statement makes clear the lines and policies which the Communist Internationale has tried to follow in China. These are based on three principles of Lenin.

1—It is necessary to base action in any country according to the national characteristics and national peculiarities of that particular nation.

2—It is necessary to bring about a union or alliance between the various groups who comprise the proletarian masses.

3—It is necessary to teach truth not merely by propaganda and agitation, but by giving the masses themselves political experience.

Within the Communist Party the leaders of the opposition—Trotsky, Zinovieff, Kamenev—desire a radical program in China of building up independent soviets which would refuse to work within the People's Revolutionary Party. Stalin accuses them of wanting to run the Chinese Revolution by telegraph.

ALL GROUPS COMBINED

During the early stages of the Chinese revolution, Stalin says the Communist Internationale tried to unite the peasants, the city poor, the small bourgeoisie property-owning intellectual class and the nationalistic property owners. One of the peculiarities of this period was that all these classes were willing to work together with the Communists in the People's Revolutionary Party.

In the second stage of the revolution Chiang-Kai-Shek and the nationalistic property owners deserted to the counter revolutionary forces. The Nationalists had become scared by the spread of the revolutionary movement among the poor and by the pressure exerted by the foreign representatives. The tactics of the Communist Internationale then became concentrated on forming a union of the peasants, the city poor, and the small middle class intellectuals.

Stalin maintains that in many ways it was an advantage to have driven out the rich, for then a genuine people's movement could be built. "As a matter of fact the results showed the wisdom of the policy," says Stalin. "Membership in the party grew from almost nothing to 60,000, while the Young Communist League increased from a membership of 2365 to over 35,000. The trade unions expanded to a membership of 3,000,000 and the peasant organizations took in 10,000,000 new members."

CONTRASTING STATEMENTS

Stalin thus frankly admits the activity of the Communist Internationale in China. In spite of this participation, the Russians maintain that they have not intervened in China to the extent that Europe has and is doing.

For the allied nations first of all have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars on missionary work. Following closely in the wake of religious workers are foreign traders who have not hesitated to make as much money as possible out of the Chinese. The Bolsheviks call this "exploitation."

Russia points to the fact that foreign nations now have 173 warships in Chinese waters whereas Russia has none.

In contrast to allied policy, the Bolsheviks have sent missionaries of the Communist Internationale, armed not with guns but with ideas. These taken together do not represent one hundredth of the personnel of the foreign missionary forces. The Bolshevik emissaries have been trying to organize the peasant and working masses to help themselves. The Bolsheviks have sent no traders to exploit the Chinese, no guns to kill them, and have abrogated all unjust treaties.

Americans may not agree with the Bolshevik position in regard to the work of the Communist Internationale in China, but at least we should understand the Russian point of view. This I have tried faithfully to reproduce.

FIRST OPEN FORUM ON MONDAY EVENING

Green Bay Minister to Talk on War Dangers at Meeting in Y. M. C. A.

The first open forum of the year sponsored by the Y's Mens club, will be held at 7 o'clock Monday evening in the Y. M. C. A. lobby, with Dr. Edwin B. Simpson, pastor of the First Baptist church of Green Bay as the speaker. The club inaugurated the forum meetings as one of its service activities for the year and Monday's program will be the first of a series of five or six during the fall and winter. The forums will be held on alternate Monday evenings.

The forums will be open to the public, men and women, and plans are being made to accommodate a large attendance.

The Y's Men will hold their regular Monday meeting at 6:15 and then will adjourn to the lobby for the forum. Election of new officers will take place at the meeting.

Dr. Simpson will speak on "Europe's War-danger Zone," from his experiences in Europe. He recently returned from a 3-months' tour of the country with the Sherwood Eddy party, which was composed of educators and students of international affairs. The party visited every country of Europe and because of its prestige and famous leaders, it was granted long audiences with leaders of various nations. Dr. Simpson will give a short talk and the remainder of the evening will be spent in informal discussion by his audience. He will lead the discussion.

Disbursements during the past month totaled $169,712.69 leaving the city treasury with a balance of $371,055.06 according to the monthly report of Fred E. Bachman, city treasurer.

However, disbursements from the general fund during the months totaled $75,834.31 while the city was forced to make loans totaling $36,000 to meet these accounts. The general fund now has a balance of $41,763.46.

conservation commission power to take options on northern lakes park and other park property.

HOPE TO SAVE ON PARK SITE
Although Gov. Zimmerman objected to the civil service commission appropriation on the university appropriation bill, he signed the entire measure rather than delay university appropriations, but this amendment could be wiped out at the special session without interfering with the regular university funds.

The plan to have the conservation commission authorized to take options on northern lakes park rather than passing bills for the purchase of this park and other properties is said to be fostered in the belief that a considerable saving might result in the purchase by the latter plan.

Woman's Diary Tells Story Of Early Wisconsin

Madison—(AP)— Pictures of early pioneer life in this state, scenes of privation, of hardships, and struggles with nature and with warlike Indians; portraits of grim, determined men and women who were carving out a home for themselves and their families in a wilderness country, all of these are contained in stories submitted in a contest conducted by the Wisconsin Club Woman, official publication of the Wisconsin Federation of Woman's Clubs, for the best story on pioneer women in the state.

Life in Barron County in 1878 when that county was a wilderness, a home in a log cabin forty-five miles by oxen from Menominee, are depicted in the story of Miranda Ward, as written by Mrs. J. S. Phillips of Chetek.

When Mrs. Ward came to her new home, she carried with her a few personal belongings, a cake and a bushel of buckwheat. That summer Mr. Ward broke fifteen or twenty acres of land, and sowed buckwheat, wheat and oats. Both were barefooted to save their shoes, and soon grew accustomed to it. "Prairie Farm, twelve miles away, was the nearest postoffice. An almanac was considered a literary treat. Mrs. Ward once received $8 dollars for picking hops for a neighbor. Four dollars of that amount she spent for a year's subscription to Harper's Magazine and with sixty cents she bought a set of Dickens' works in paper covers.

An instance of protection afforded to a pioneer woman by friendly Indians is told by F. L. Drake, Madison. Margaret Fairgrieve left her home in England, and established a home with her young husband near Madison where that settlement was only a village. One day when she and her baby were alone, an Indian chief and five of his braves stepped into her cabin. Despite her fright, they were able finally to make her understand they wanted plums from the trees growing near the house. The chief picked up her baby, and displayed him to the members of his band, and then all six went out and stripped the plum trees of their fruit.

That night Margaret was awakened by the noise of a prowler in her lean-to woodshed. With the aid of her Newfoundland dog, she drove the intruder into the blackness of the stormy night. When her husband came home, she was weak with terror. In the morning, they discovered the man's body, face downward, with fingers sunk deep into the green milk of a near-by marsh. Plucking his heart was a red-feathered arrow—the arrow which she had seen carried in the quiver of her Indian caller the day before.

Each pioneer family constituted a small industrial unit. Mrs. E. T. Baillie, Madison, tells how her mother and sisters knitted their own stockings, made most of their own and the men's clothing, made their own candles from tallow.

"When an illuminating product called kerosene became known, it created almost as much excitement at the time as Lindbergh's flight did recently," she says. "Father brought home a gallon of it, for which he paid $2.25. He also brought a glass lamp, chimney, and wick, and it was with many misgivings that mother gave up the candles, and took to the new light, whose reputation for exploding was very bad. For some time the lamp was used only on Sunday."

The family provided its own medicines from herbs which grew in the woods, says Mrs. Baillie. "In March we had to take a dose of sulphur and molasses for nine mornings. A chill was combated with hot ginger tea; a sore throat by a red flannel dipped in goose grease, and a mustard plaster and a dose of salts covered all other ills. A doctor was never called to our family so long as we were under mother's loving care."

An educational institution in southern Wisconsin owes its existence to a pioneer woman's devotion to education, and a desire to bring happiness to the young people of the new commonwealth, according to a story submitted by Mrs. Ethel Morrison-Marsden, Edgerton.

"The Little Ann Academy" was established by Mrs. Ann Carter after her little daughter Ann had disappeared in the vast woods near their home, never to return again. The school, which was established as a memorial to little Ann now bears a different name, and Mrs. Carter is not even named as its founder. But, says Mrs. Morrison-Marsden, it was this pioneer woman who made its existence possible, who raised the money for its buildings, and who, when the struggling institution seemed about to die, put into it all of a legacy she received from England.

Tales of Indian visits are numerous, but many of them were of a friendly nature. Mrs. Jessie R. Skinner, Madison, has heard her grandmother tell of a visit made to her by a band of Indians, who, with gesticulations, conveyed to her the information that it was the bread she was baking in which they were interested. She explained to them, as best she could, that they would have to wait until the bread had risen and then baked. When they understood, they squatted on the floor of the kitchen, and waited until it was a finished product.

Once, says Mrs. Skinner, her grandmother became very ill with diphtheria. As she lay on her bed, the door opened, and large Indian walked into the room, looked at her closely, gripped, and went out of doors again. Through the window she saw him chasing a chicken around and round the yard. In a few minutes he entered the room again, and stood in her holding a bloody tomahawk in one hand and a slaughtered chicken in the other. Pulling the bed clothes back, he laid the chick with gaping wound, across her throat, then drew up the blankets and departed. The poor woman, nearly dead with fright and fever, lay perfectly still for hours. Next morning the fever was gone; the chicken poultice had drawn the inflammation from her throat. She learned later that the Indian had chased the chicken to warm his blood, and that it was a common practice in his tribe to use chickens, birds, or small animals as poultices.

"Leaves from the Diary of a Wisconsin Pioneer Woman," presented by Mrs. C. R. Ryan, Fort Atkinson, tell their own story.

June 10, 1852: "This morning I remarked to John that the stumps in the backfield were hardly excuse enough for such crooked rows of corn. He laughed and reminded me that 'Many a straight stalk grew in a crooked row.' Maybe so, but I aim to have all our stalks and all our rows straight."

Aug. 20, 1852: Our new summer kitchen is made of lumber, and improves the looks of our log house. I aim to paper it as soon as I can. When we went to Milwaukee this spring we looked at wall paper. It was cheap and pretty too, but we had so little real money to run us till fall, I didn't dare buy it. I will use newspapers. I have saved everyone that has come into the house, and I think I'll have enough.

Father gave me twenty-five dollars when we were married back in Savona, N. Y. I planned to buy a set of springs and a mattress. They say that a mattress is better than the best feather-tick, and more healthy. But when we came to Wisconsin, John thought we needed fruit trees more than the mattress, and I agreed with him, but I'd like to have a mattress and springs.

Aug. 25, 1852: "Last night I sat alone on the porch, after the children had gone to bed. John went to Madison to a political meeting and to get supplies. While I was full of gloomy thoughts, I saw one of our half grown pigs trotting up the path toward me. It was a pet pig we had raised on the bottle. I felt so lonesome that I called to it. . . . but it snorted, ran out into the dusk, and was denied the society of even a hog."

Aug. 29, 1852: "Today I papered the summer kitchen, and it looks real good. I made new sash curtains from the Academy at Thurston, N. Y. I ran out of papers, and had to use some of John's treasured New York Tribunes. I didn't use Horace Greeley's editorial page, for I knew I'd never be forgiven for such a thing."

Nov. 15, 1852: "Today I was washing, and a small band of Indians stopped at the door. They often come by our house on their way to Lake Koshkonong to fish and trap. They always want something to eat, so I went down cellar to see what I could spare. When I came back a squaw was putting the bar of soap off the washboard into her blanket. I didn't let on that I had seen her, for I thought her need of soap was greater than mine."

Dec. 15, 1852: "I made John a night-shirt for his birthday. It is a new kind of material called outing flannel. He says that I am getting awful stylish wanting him to wear the only night-shirt in Wisconsin, unless it might be that Governor Dewey down at Madison wears one, a circumstance that he doubts."

Mar. 1, 1853: "We went to a dance at Marriman's last night. All the neighbors were there, and we had a good time. I wore my new black and white calico trimmed corban lace. The basque is a little tighter than I intended to make it, but it looks real stylish."

INDIAN WARS ENDED BY 60-YEAR OLD PACT

Treaty Which Put End to Indian Troubles Signed 60 Years Ago This Month

Medicine Lodge, Kas.—(AP)—Sixty years ago this month marked the end of a great era in pioneer history, the termination of the Indian warfare which has harassed the invading white man since the Lewis and Clark expedition.

On October 12, 1867, fifteen thousand Indians representing the Kiowa, Cheyenne, Arapahoe, Comanche and Plains Apache tribes met a commission authorized by congress and appointed by the president and signed what is now known as the Medicine Lodge treaty. Under it the Indians agreed to end the frontier warfare and to stay within reservation boundaries.

A pageant was staged here October 12 in celebration of the anniversary of the treaty signing. Members of the original five tribes, white descendants of pioneer settlers and government and state officials took part.

Medicine Lodge, situated at the confluence of Medicine River and Elm Creek on the Kansas-Oklahoma border, long had been a favorite camping place of the Indians. When the government induced the leaders of the five strongest tribes to meet and arrange for permanent peace the place where Medicine Lodge now stands was chosen for the gatherings.

The tomahawk was buried at a ceremony following the framing of the treaty, and the pact made then is still in force.

The anniversary pageant is written and directed by Prof. F. L. Gillson of the Kansas State Teacher's College, Emporia. It depicted the arrival of Coronado, the planting of the cross and the Spanish flag, the Lewis and Clark expedition, the coming of early settlers, an Indian attack and the signing of the peace treaty.

Young doctors in England now can raise capital to buy themselves practices through a new insurance plan.

17 Abraham Solomons In American Army During War

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington — When you want to check up the record of a World War veteran through the War Department, please be specific.

A request came to the army the other day for some information about Abraham Solomon.

Investigation disclosed that the A. D. F. had Seventeen Abraham Solomons.

The War Department wonders why, with all the argument over who won the war, the Solomons haven't put in a claim backed by sheer force of numbers.

LONG, LONG TIME

Estimating the time that will be required to enforce prohibition may become a popular sport in the next Congress, now that the question has been raised. The time, or many of them, have been saving all along that prohibition could be enforced and the veto have been saying that it never could be enforced. Perhaps they will eventually compromise and undertake to out the United States, at salaries ranging from $1,850 to $2,500 a year, without allowance, or $1,250 to $1,500 a year with quarters, subsistence and laundry, the entrance salary within the range stated depending upon the qualifications of the appointee and the duty to which assigned.

Associate mining engineer at $3,000 a year, assistant mining engineer at $2,400 a year, bureau of mines, department of commerce, for duty in Washington, D. C., or in the field.

FROSH TO MARCH IN HOMECOMING PARADE

Committee Chairmen Announce Program for Lawrence Celebration Next Week

Lawrence college will begin a new practice in the big Homecoming parade on Saturday morning, Oct. 29, when freshmen will march en masse.

Equally interesting was a promise made in a recent speech by William C. Deming, chairman of the Civil Service Commission. Mr. Deming did not promise absolute enforcement, but after explaining that enforcement officials and agents had been put under Civil Service to cope with an "intolerable" situation, he said:

"The Civil Service Commission cannot perform miracles. We do not promise the impossible, nor will the entire character of the service be changed in the twinkling of an eye, but I am willing to say this—that given seven years, the length of time elapsed since the Volstead law became effective we promise you results."

POLITICS BY PHONE

Officials of the State Department assume that in time, the rules, precedents and cabinet members of the world will be able to talk with each other by long distance. Perhaps, in time of war, serious trouble may be averted by a frank telephone talk. This idea was suggested when President Coolidge and President Calles conversed the other day between Washington and Mexico City upon the inauguration of this international telephone service.

The department looks forward to talking with Ambassador Morrow whenever necessary. The comparatively new telephone service to Cuba is frequently utilized to communicate with our ambassador at Havana, and it requires no more than five minutes to complete the call.

WIRE WERE CLOGGED

The wire to Mexico City was clogged with a rush of business almost immediately after it opened when the revolution broke out against the Calles government. Government calls came first, of course, and there were plenty of them between the State Department and the American embassy in Mexico City and the Mexican foreign office.

Press associations and newspapers immediately undertook to raise their correspondents in Mexico City by telephone. Especially when telegraphic dispatches seemed to be held up, they had little success in completing calls on the first day, however, although the Mexican embassy here got one call to its foreign minister through in less than half an hour.

CALLS OWN AMBULANCE

Cleveland, O. — Max Biedenbach waited for an ambulance to answer his call that a man had jumped to his death from a roof. When the ambulance arrived Biedenbach jumped the body hurried to the pavement beside the ambulance attendance who were looking for the source of the call.

Penchant For Fad Names Strong In Candy Business

Candy bars may come and candy bars may go but plain milk chocolate candy bars will, like the proverbial creek, go on forever. That is the opinion of the candy trade today. A new fad leaps into prominence and some aspiring candy manufacturer immediately names his "latest" bar after the fad. In reality the bar is one of the old standbys masquerading under a new name.

Many candy bar dealers will assert that that is one reason why bars do not hold the market long nor do they take to popular favor. Too much turnover as far as name is concerned is the main objection and when the candies are named after a slang phrase, a well known personage or the like, the bar passes as rapidly as the fame of the individual, if not faster.

One instance to prove the point is the Barney Google bar. Several months or a year ago Barney Google and his famous nag Sparkplug were famous not only in cartoons in newspaper and on the screen but also in song. Immediately some candy manufacturer with high pressure sales ideas named a bar after the comic world's favorite. And now, well, it will take a few hours of searching to find a store carrying Barney Google's bar in stock. Those that are found probably are left overs from a better day.

One bar that has remained a favorite for several years is the Baby Ruth. But let Lou Gehrig eclipse the sultan of sweat in the eyes of baseball fans, and see how soon the Baby Ruth will be supplanted by, shall we say the Larupin' Lou bar?

A few years ago, more than that, five years ago, this section of the state found a candy bar named the Hinky Dink a delightful satiation of the sweet tooth. The bar was made with a fudge like interior coated with peanuts and butterscotch and the whole thing covered with chocolate. Not long after other bars appeared on the market with probably a different center but materially the same as the Hinky Dink until now there are at least a half dozen of about the same formula.

But the plain milk chocolate or almond chocolate bars have "stuck" longest and dealers will tell you that demand is practically as heavy today as it was years ago. Just a good piece of candy with no frills and not catering to fancy—that's the chocolate bar.

One change on the candy bar market that is noticeable is that the sum chewing stenographer is also the bar eating stenographer. Candy bars furnish her lunch and as she munches away on a couple hundred calories she will also tell how terribly fat she is getting. The candy store owner knows why.

It's the stenographer and her little brother who eat the largest number of bars. Little brother indulges in them because it's a cheap way of getting some candy, a nickel will buy most any bar and the amount just about satisfies him for a few hours.

Proof that candy bars are made to suit the youngsters is in the tendency to manufacture five cent bars. Youngsters have no trouble digging up a nickel for candy and knowing this, manufacturers keep the market flooded with the small bars. Many of the candies carry names which will attract the attention of the children and prompt them to buy.

The Demands of the Hour

Faith in aviation is spreading, but the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes it would be more contagious if the growing safety of routine air transport was known better.

Here are a few facts about regulated commercial flying here and abroad that are worthy of consideration.

American mail planes flew 3,108,720 miles without a casualty in the fourteen months from February 12, 1926, to April 22, 1927.

Fifty German air lines flew 3,814,000 miles last year, carrying 56,268 passengers.

The Imperial Airways, Ltd., and its predecessors, have flown more than 5,000,000 miles in seven years and carried some 75,000 passengers.

Air freight from London to Paris is insured in England at 2 shillings per 100 pound sterling. Insurance on the same freight by surface transport cost 6 shillings and eight pence.

Pioneer days in aviation are past. No longer do men say, "It can't be done." They speculate upon how long it will be before we all will be flying.

From the beginning the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has kept pace with the pioneers of the air. Long ago it showed its faith in aviation by setting to work to develop fuel and oil to meet the special needs of the airplane.

Today it is ready. Its aviation products have been proved. In the first National Air Derby—New York to Spokane—the winners of the first three Class A prizes used Standard Oil Company (Indiana) aviation gasoline and lubricating oil.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has had to be a pioneer, always alive and alert to the changes of a progressive world. It has had to feel the pulse of an onrushing civilization—to sense its needs and develop products to meet them.

A flexible organization has been developed, capable of supplying changing demands—constantly extending, expanding and improving its service.

At one time kerosene was the major product of petroleum. The automobile came. Gasoline took the leading role. Today gasoline is furnished in various grades by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to millions of motorists.

With the development of aviation a new need has arisen and this Company has extended its service to meet this demand.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has a bigger job than the manufacture of a single standard article. This Company is a service organization—working with a natural resource—producing from it the products the nation needs—meeting the demands of the hour with efficiency and skill.

TOWNSDENY IMMEDIATE STEPS TO MOVE P. O.
TO NEW QUARTERS

City Utility Wants Government to Increase Rent Payment to $75 a Month

Kaukauna—Contrary to reports circulated late Tuesday evening, the Kaukauna postoffice will not move from its present quarters for some time to come. This statement was made by J. C. Posson, manager of the city water and electrical department, operator of the municipal building. Mr. Posson added that at present a proposition would be submitted to the government that would be favorable to it and a protest would immediately be registered with the postal department at Washington D. C.

The controversy arose over an attempt to raise the rent for the part of the municipal building which the postoffice occupies from $100 per month to $175. The department was willing to pay an increase to $50 per month but believed $75 to be too much. Accordingly G. P. Reidenbach of Green Bay was sent to Kaukauna Tuesday afternoon to investigate and up to the time he left the city no definite settlement had been agreed upon.

City officials maintain the city has lost money on leasing the rooms for only $100 per month and that the expenses can not be met for less than $175. The city will immediately protest to Washington and Mr. Posson said that he would personally go to Washington if the matter could not be placed on the post master general's desk in any other way. Until that time the local postoffice will remain where it is.

ZWICK ARRIVES IN KAUKAUNA FOR FIGHT

Bantam Battler in Good Condition for Friday Night
Battle

Kaukauna—Phil Zwick, Kaukauna featherweight, arrived in the city late Tuesday afternoon. Accompanied by Barney Wheaton, his trainer, Phil is matched to fight Joey Thomas of Oshkosh in the Applinet armory on Friday night.

He was in the best of condition and did not seem to have any surplus weight. Speaking of his fight for Friday night Zwick said he expected to win.

The local boy will work out at the Legion building. Wednesday afternoon he went through a light workout and another was contemplated for Thursday.

Kaukauna fans are lining up strong for the match. Tickets are being disposed of rapidly at Jacob Miller's place on Third-st. A complete section of the armory has been set aside for Kawiown fight fans.

Zwick has the record of being about the best featherweight in the state and now that Thomas is claiming the same thing Phil has decided it is best to show Thomas that he is wrong. The Kawiown battle made a fine record during the past two years and he has only lost two matches to much more experienced battlers. Both of these encounters helped Zwick along and he admits he learned much on both of them.

Since leaving Wisconsin two years ago Zwick has boxed all the good bantamweights in Florida and was a consistent winner while there. After a half year in Florida Phil moved to Cleveland.

Social Items

Kaukauna—Sacred Heart court of Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will hold a social meeting in its club rooms on Wednesday evening. A special feature has been planned for the evening. CLERK IS PREPARING FOR VOTE REGISTRATION

Kaukauna—L. C. Wolf, city clerk, is busy preparing for registration of Kaukauna voters early in November. The registration is to be made in cities of 5,000 or more.

Under the new law each voter must register at the city clerk's office. The new records involve a great deal of clerical work as there is a separate name for every voter in the city. On this basis is recorded the name, address, birthplace, age and information on the naturalization record of the individual. The number of times and dates that each voter votes also is recorded on the page.

KAWMEN EXPECT
FIGHT FROM NEENAH

Up River School Noted for Its Opposition to Kaukauna
Teams

Kaukauna—On Saturday afternoon the Neenah High school football team will come to Kaukauna to play the first game of the season. The team will be composed of the Orange and Black. Although Neenah does not boast a strong team this season, a good, hard fight is always in prospect when the two squads get together. And no matter how strong Kaukauna has been in the past and how weak Neenah has been, the locals have not been able to beat the Red and White by a big score.

With Neenah out of the way Kaukauna will have but one more conference foe to meet, the Rivers. The two teams will meet on Friday night in the "crucial" contests of the conference season and a win for the Kaws may give them the conference banner. So far Kaukauna is tied for first place in the conference with West De Pere following the Nicolet High schoolers thrilling 13 to 12 victory over Two Rivers in a postponed game played off at De Pere Tuesday afternoon. West De Pere and Kaukauna have each won two games and tied one in the conference. The only other undefeated squad in the loop being West De Pere and Kaukauna is New London, the team which held West De Pere to a tie last Saturday.

A big pep meeting will be held in the high school auditorium during general assembly period Friday morning. One of the largest crowds of the year is expected to be at the football field on Saturday. The kickoff will be at 2 o'clock. Kubitz of Manitowoc and Basing of Appleton will be the officials.

SURE WAY TO STOP
Night Coughing

A Prescription That Ends Night
Coughs in 15 Minutes

A remarkable prescription known as Thoxine, working on an entirely different principle, goes direct to the cause, and is guaranteed to stop the stubbornest cough within 15 minutes. One swallow is all that's needed. If it fails, get your money back. No chloroform or other harmful drugs. Safe for children. Equally good for sore throat, for which purpose it is far superior to gargles. Ask for Thoxine, 35c, 60c and $1.00. Sold by Voigt's Drug Store, Schiltz Bros. Drug Stores and all good drug stores. adv.

FORMER FOREST JUNCTION
WOMAN DIES AT ATHENS

Special to Post-Crescent
Forest Junction—Mrs. R. H. Zulk, 61, formerly Miss Anna Janssen, of here, died at her home in Athens, Marchion on Sunday morning. She was born in Waukesha and came here with her parents at the age of three years. In 1888, she was married to R. H. Zulk of Wrightstown, where a brief residence was maintained before settling in the village of Brillion. When they lost their properties there in the conflagration which swept the village in May, 1899, Mr. and Mrs. Zulk removed to Reedsville for one year, following which they engaged in the hotel business, first in Marshfield and later in Athens. The Odd Fellows lodge will have charge of the funeral at Brillion at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The body will be interred in the village cemetery in the family lot, where two children and one step-child are buried. Mrs. Zulk is survived by her widow; three step-children, Mrs. Robert Newell and Mrs. William Heine of Chicago, and Otto Zulk of Athens; one brother, Charles Janssen of Forest Junction; and three sisters, Mrs. Gustav Lindow of Chilton and Mrs. F. G. Hase and Mrs. Paul Zirbel of Forest Junction.

MASCOT IDEA SPREADING
Mascots, which have made such a hit as automobile ornaments, are spreading to nearly all fields or ornament in England. They are made as jewelry, as "doggie" handbags, as tops for umbrella handles, and are taking their place alongside the gar-goyles or little gods as decorations for the home. One of the most pleasing forms of the orna-ments is the tiny brass knocker, not for the street door, but for the doors of rooms. They are in the forms of an animal, a pixie or the Lincoln imp, and are not only attractive as decorations but because of their diminutive size give a pleasing "Good morning" as the maids use them to arouse sleepers instead of pounding the panels with the knock-knocks.

An invisible camera has been invented which is operated by radio and in daylight or darkness, so that a thief, merely by his presence in the room, sets it in action.

FINE FOR CHILDREN!
Give them a good start in life, with happy smiles and healthy little bodies. Children need a mild corrective occasionally to regulate stomach and bowels. Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets are a safe vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They tone up and regulate the eliminative tract. Not a nasty cathartic or a habit-forming medicine, but a safe pleasant remedy for constipation, sour stomach, torpid liver, bad breath, and similar disorders. Dr. Edwards, a widely known family physician of Ohio, prescribed these tablets for many years in his own practice. Children from six years up are greatly helped by them and like to take them. Recognized by their olive color. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are excellent for those irritable spells that many children are subject to, keep their bodies in active healthy condition, their blood in active healthy condition, skin clear and eyes bright with the light of perfect health. 15c, 30c and 50c sizes. adv.

REASONS
PAVEMENTS FAIL—

and how a brick surface
prevents that costly failure

You've seen it happen. A pavement recently laid. Perhaps not yet paid for. But—going to pieces, running up repair costs.

Why did it fail? Perhaps the base was not strong enough. But, more likely, the surface did not provide protection for the base. When that happens, modern traffic is not long in hammering the pavement into premature wreckage.

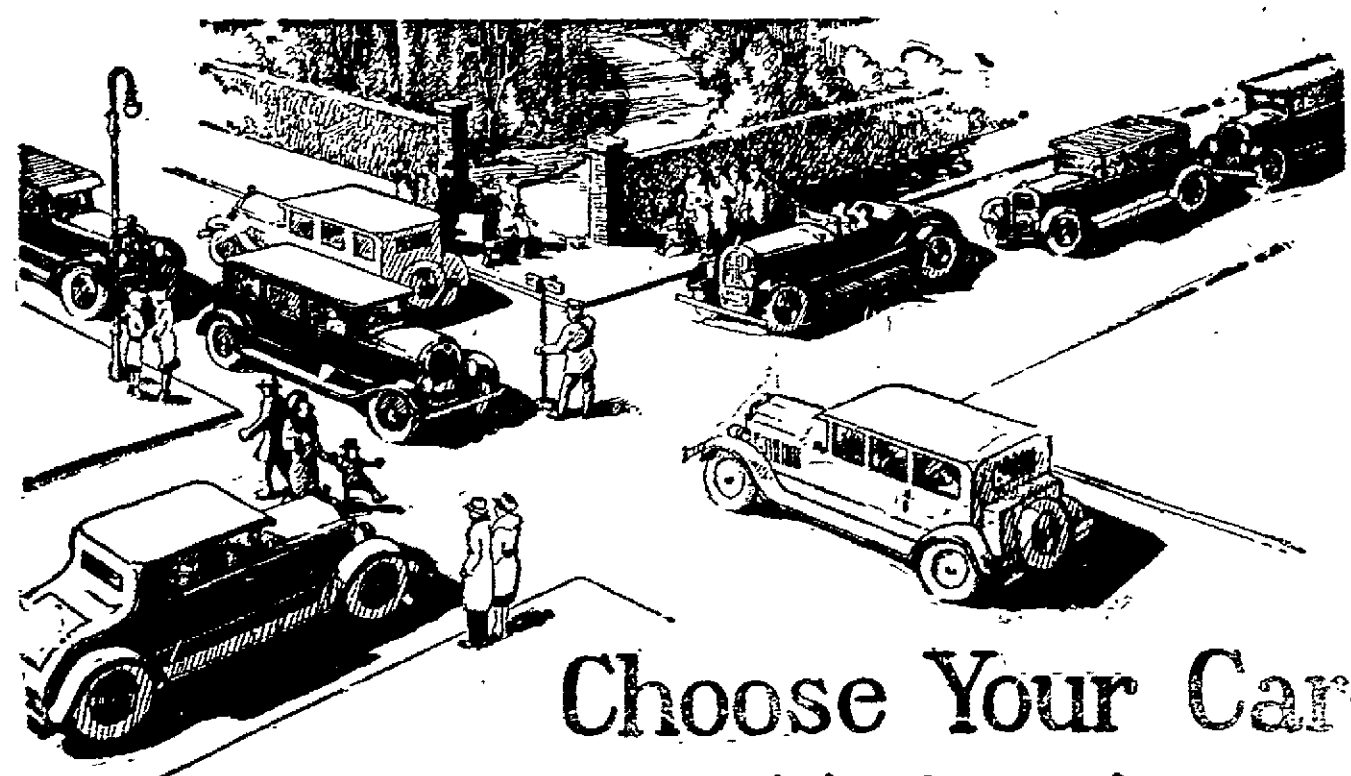

Paving brick, being vitrified, does not absorb water. Laid on any good base, with a sand cushion, and bound together with asphalt, a brick surface keeps all water out. And, furthermore, has sufficient "give"—resilience—to protect the base from the jolting punishment of heavy traffic.

Brick is the toughest wearing-surface man makes. Also it is level, easy-riding, safe and easy on the eyes. In dollars of cost per year, records prove brick the cheapest of all pavement. In value it is the highest type of paving material known.

"The A. B. C. of Good Paving," a taxpayer's manual, tells in words and pictures how engineers today build ever-lasting, low cost, brick surfaced roads and streets. Address your request to National Paving Brick Manufacturers Association, 332 South Michigan Boulevard, Chicago.

STAGE And SCREEN

STENOGRAPHER IN SEAT OF MIGHT IN BADGER STATE HOUSE

Madison—(AP)—The executive office of the commonwealth of Wisconsin was occupied Tuesday by one lone girl, Miss Gladys McGuire, stenographer.

Governor Fred R. Zimmerman flew by airplane to Chicago to speak at a luncheon of the National Advertising club. Col. Louis B. Nagler, executive secretary was in Fond du Lac attending a meeting of the conservation commission, he having been recently elected director of conservation by the commission, to take the office of the late J. M. Kissel, executive clerk on her vacation, and Miss McGuire, Miss McGuire's fellow stenographer was absent from the office because of illness.

Miss McGuire said her impulse was to emulate the example of "Ma" Ferguson, and issue a wholesale lot of pardons, but that she would refrain from doing so. It was suggested to her that she relieve the suspense of a great many people, including reporters, by appointing a successor to Judge William B. Quinlan to preside over the twentieth judicial circuit. The acting Governor said she would have to take the matter under advisement.

To Americans the name Barrymore has become synonymous with acting. The name was vindicated last night in Lionel Barrymore's portrayal of the love-crazed doctor as he heated the iron with which to brand his beautiful young wife.

The scenes stood out in the picture as intensely dramatic as any scenes this writer has ever viewed upon the screen. Miss Pringle gave an emotional performance that has seldom been equaled and which will certainly advance her into the ranks of great emotional players.

T. Roy Barnes gives his usual good performance, this time in the role of a Swiss postman, a comedy character which innocently precipitates a situation filled with color and suspense.

The story concerns a Swiss peasant girl who weds a good-for-nothing doctor many years older than herself. Her innocent jealousy with the postman arouses the husband's jealousy and he takes refuge in drink at a nearby tavern. The liquor inflames his anger and he returns to the house, ties his young wife to a post in his forge and, having heated a great brass seal to a white heat, brands her shoulder with it in order to mark her for his own. A young mountaineer, hearing her screams, comes to her rescue and carries her off to his Alpine cottage, where they eventually fall in love with one another. One day he sustains an accident and the doctor has to be summoned. Hilda promises to return with the old man if only he will save the young man's life. The doctor does so, but before taking his young wife away with him is killed while mountain climbing by an avalanche. The young couple are then left free to marry.

How To Play Bridge

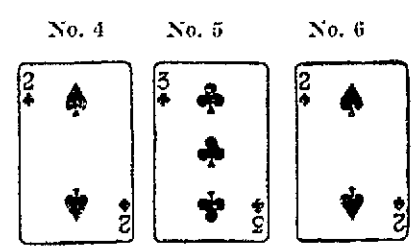

By Milton O. Work

This week we are considering the question of original leads, giving each day a hand and asking what should be led from it against three different declarations.

YESTERDAY'S HAND

♠ 10-7-5-2
♥ K-8-5
♦ 4-3-2
♣ K-J-3

It is held by West, South (Dealer) having obtained the contract in each case by his first bid. His three bids were: No. 4, one No Trump; No. 5, one Spade; No. 6, one Heart. The card which should be led from the above hand in each one of the above cases is:

No. 4. There being only one long suit (four or more cards), it is the only selection to be considered against a No Trump contract; and as the suit does not contain three honors, the fourth best card should be led.

No. 5. A close choice between the Five of Hearts and the Three of Clubs. Neither the Heart nor the Club is an advantageous opening, but it is probable that either is better than the very weak trebleton in Diamonds. Leading the Four of Diamonds would look to the partner as if it were a fourth best. The Deuce of Spades should not be considered because it might kill an honor in partner's hand. The hand presents a guess between the lowest cards of two different suits, but the Club seems to be a better selection than the Heart because it will work perfectly if partner have either Queen or Ace of Clubs.

No. 6. A four-card suit, even a weak one, presents a better lead from this hand than a worthless trebleton or a King-Jack three-card suit.

TODAY'S HAND

♠ J-10-4
♥ K-Q-6-4-2
♦ J-9-7
♣ Q-2

This hand is held by West, South being the Declarer. Three different contracts are given, the question in each case being: What should West lead? The contracts are stated in the answers below.

ANSWER BLANK OF OCTOBER 19

7. South deals and bids one No Trump; no other bidding. West, holding the above hand, should lead.....

8. South deals and bids one Spade; no other bidding. West, holding the above hand, should lead.....

9. South deals and bids one Heart; no other bidding. West, holding the above hand, should lead.....

BLUE GRIDDERS SHOW MUCH IMPROVEMENT IN PRACTICE

Catlin Smiles For First Time This Season As Men Battle Hard In Workouts

Second String Men Replace Lagging Regulars and Real Fighting Starts

Time brings many changes, and after practice Tuesday evening Coach Mark Catlin of the Lawrence college football team smiled a bit as he climbed the stairs to the coach's dressing room at the field house. And he had reason to smile for the varsity football team had, for the first time, shown signs of developing into a real thing.

Taking the teams out for their regular daily workouts Tuesday evening Coaches Catlin, Kotal and Ashe saw them finally come round to a point where the backs were driving hard and fast when carrying the ball and the line was opening huge gaps in the forward wall of the second varsity and the freshman teams. The two weeks of most intensive drill were at last beginning to show some signs of sinking in.

REGULARS BENCHMARKED
Several new faces may be in the Lawrence line when it takes the field against Lake Forest college at Lake Forest Saturday but the new men probably will do better than the men whom they replaced. Handicapped with a small squad, Catlin has seen a number of his men take things easy because they thought their jobs were permanent. A rude awakening came of most of them this week and they have, as a result, seen service with the second string while the latter were promoted to the varsity. The result is that there is now more fight on the part of the men and less of the "Sorry, but I missed that play" attitude.

While Catlin has been drilling his linemen and backs on offensive plays all week he will have to spend several hours on a forward pass defense in preparing for Saturday's contest. Lake Forest looked bad against Ripon at Fond du Lac last Friday according to spectators, but that is no indication they will be in the same mood this week.

MARTIN BIG THREAT
A good part of the Lake Forest attack is built around a chap by the name of Martin, who is real triple threat man. Martin can slide off tackle or skirt the end for real gains, can pass with the best of them and averages 80 yards on his punts. According to most coaches that is about all there is to be expected from a man.

McCall plays fullback for the Illinois school and has shown real adaptability to the position though he was made over from a line man. The Lake Forest line averages 160 pounds and the backfield 154 pounds. The extremes of the team as regards weight are a 200-pound tackle and a 137-pound quarterback. Lawrence will probably go into the game Saturday with a full quota of players and no injuries. Krohn is nursing a bruised shoulder but a special pad covered that member Tuesday evening and will be worn by the big tackle Saturday. Barrell's knee is coming around in fine shape. The men were forced to wear head guards Tuesday evening during practice to eliminate head injuries and add confidence to the backfield men when hitting the line on plunges.

BIG TEN COACHES TO WATCH ILLINI SQUAD

Big Ten coaches are following the work of Illinois closely this fall. The impression among them seems to be that 1927 is going to be a Zuppke year. Illinois gets its first real test in Western Conference circles on Oct. 22, when it meets Northwestern at Evanston. Ill. Coach Bob Zuppke expects some of his new stars, Judson Tamm, L. J. Gordon, Russ Crane, Lloyd Burdick and Frank Walker to add enough balance to last year's leftovers, to form a winning combination.

There are two games on the Illinois schedule, Michigan and Ohio State, for which Zuppke will carefully point his charges. These traditional rivals defeated Illinois last fall. Michigan winning 13-0, while Ohio State was just able to ek out a 7-6 victory.

Bob Zuppke, one of the most resourceful coaches in the country, is about ready to put over another winner. He doesn't believe in coaching losers. Last season he suffered the loss of the great "Red" Grange and there is no doubt but that the sensation of Big Ten circles for three years was missed.

Among the sophomores on this year's squad, Zuppke hopes to uncover another star, who will pull some of the stunts for which Grange was famous.

Dope Favors Purdue In Battle With Card Eleven

Madison—(P)—The Blue and Maize of Michigan, has come, and gone, with a 14-0 victory for the Wolverine, and the Wisconsin Badgers are settling down this week for a steady grind in preparation for the Purdue game here Saturday, the second Big Ten clash of the season for the Wisconsin eleven.

The dope says that the Badgermaker outfit from Purdue is the better team. It succeeded to Chicago 7-6 last week after having defeated Harvard 19-0 and will be anxious to improve the Big Ten standing by a win over Wisconsin. The Packers looked good last Saturday, despite their defeat by Michigan and Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite is working hard to point them for the better when they meet.

Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite is working hard to point them for the better when they meet.

CARD SHORTS

The Wisconsin cross country team will compete in a quadrangular meet at Chicago next Saturday with Northwestern, Indiana, and Chicago. The Badger hatters have held an undisputed claim to cross country honors in the Big Ten for several years, and their chances for another title this year are expected to be revealed in the distance run next Saturday.

Wisconsin is pent up with enthusiasm over the approaching Purdue clash here at Camp Randall next Saturday. The commendable showing of the Cardinal against Michigan last week has kindled higher hopes in Badger fans.

Seven-five promising frosh basketball candidates, weeded from a squad of approximately 235, are being drilled in fundamentals at Wisconsin. The performance of many of the coming year candidates indicates that there will be a comparatively healthy roster to depend upon next season for the Varsity.

Plenty of good seats are still available for the Wisconsin-Purdue game at Madison next Saturday, according to reports from the ticket bureau. Fans may procure their pasteborders on Saturday up until game time at Camp Randall stadium.

Capt "Todd" Clouton and "Gene" Rose of the Cardinal eleven, in the Michigan game last week, lived up to their reputations, when both gained more ground from the line of scrimmage than any of the Wolverine ball carriers. The Wisconsin pilot is a great field general, probably the best in the Big Ten.

That the Wisconsin line is the best in recent years was proved by the manner in which the Badger forwards withheld their heavier opponents from Ann Arbor Saturday. Blush was outstanding in the Cardinal line and gave promise of developing into an All-Conference choice. Wagner and Parks also contributed generously to Michigan's worries.

ORGANIZE LADIES PIN LEAGUE OF TEN TEAMS

The Ladies Bowling league of Appleton was organized for the 1927-28 season at a meeting of fair sex held at 9:30 Tuesday evening at the Elk alleys. The ladies had bowled at 7 o'clock and the loop will roll every Tuesday evening at that time at the Elk alleys. Officers of the league, elected Tuesday evening, were Miss Ellen L. Dunn, president; Mrs. George Lampert, Jr. vice president; Miss Lorraine Dietz, secretary; Mrs. A. J. Lamore, treasurer. The league will be composed of 10 teams.

Des Moines—Kenneth Hunt, Des Moines, won from Lou Rollins, Waterloo, Iowa 10-0.

Green Bay—The Green Bay team has a very big fight at stake in its match with the Wisconsin Badgers. The Packers have a good record and the Badgers are in good shape and will be looking for a victory.

The feeling is that after Saturday's battle, the Wisconsin team will be in a better position to win the Big Ten championship.

BAYS, MARINETTE, ORANGE FAVORITES

East, West, Appleton. North-erners Given Edges for Saturday

| STANDINGS | W. | L. | Pct. |
|--------------|----|----|-------|
| W. Green Bay | 2 | 0 | 1.000 |
| E. Green Bay | 2 | 0 | 1.000 |
| Marinette | 2 | 1 | .667 |
| Oshkosh | 1 | 1 | .500 |

| APPLETON | 1 | 2 | .333 |
| Manitowoc | 1 | 2 | .333 |
| Sheboygan | 0 | 2 | .000 |

SATURDAY GAMES SHEBOYGAN AT APPLETON. W. Green Bay at Manitowoc. Fond du Lac at Marinette. Oshkosh at E. Green Bay.

East and West Green Bay, joint and undefeated holders of first place in the race for the 1927 Fox River Valley conference football banner, should keep their slates clean as the result of next Saturday's games, though East may have fairly tough going West should take a fairly easy win at Manitowoc and East has a good advantage playing at home, but is facing a good eleven in Oshkosh. Oshkosh, with a couple of breaks should hold the Red Devils to a close game. It is expected Sheboygan and then lost to Manitowoc, 6-0, in a game in which the score should have been about 21 to 0 for the Sawdusters. Appleton, in spite of its crippled legs has a chance to improve its standings and move higher in the race with a 50-50 mark. The Orangemen play Sheboygan which has been trounced by South Milwaukee, Oshkosh and W. Green Bay. The latter schools ran up large scores but they are classed as among the conference's best, especially the Bays.

HAVE TUGH SLEDGING
Though the Orange is a slight favorite, fans who have seen the last two Appleton games, those with East and Marinette, are inclined to look to the worst Sheboygan has had two weeks of practice without a game and after its three straight drubbings is all keyed up for its first win and fighting to make its next loss its victim, no matter how tough that foe is. Appleton will have to fight every second to beat the Chairs in spite of dope.

Fond du Lac should prove little opposition to Marinette, playing at home. Dope favors East and West Green Bay, Marinette and Appleton as Saturday's winners, with East and Appleton having the closest calls. Appleton, by a victory can come from sixth to fourth place, providing the expected happens, that is that Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Manitowoc lose. The Orange will trail Marinette by a single game and the Bay teams by a game and a half.

College Captains

BROWNE OF TULANE
New Orleans, La.—The best all-around athlete at Tulane—that's the honor given Pat Browne, Tulane, captain this year, by the school last year. Browne, playing his last year of football for the Green Wave, has already earned two letters in each of three sports—football, basketball, and baseball.

His natural playing position in football is at end. Because of the fact that Tulane had really great ends in Gamble and Wilson his first two years on the squad, Browne was used elsewhere mostly.

Last year he played a roving tackle, and backed up the line on defense. In addition to that, he did a great deal of the punting for the Wave.

This year, however, he is being used at end. His height and weight of 170 pounds and six feet, respectively, fit him best there.

BACHELORS, MARRIED MEN TIE IN SOFTBALL

Kimberly—The Bachelors and the Married Men were more tied, each having won and lost a game, in the Kimberly-Clark softball tournament, which is at present being played off between the two squads. The tournament opened Monday and will continue for seven days. The victor will be the squad winning four games out of the season. The games are played during the noon hour at the Club-house.

Monday the Married Men defeated the Bachelors, 8-4, and Tuesday the Single Men won by a 2-0 count.

The Married Men's victory had a slight edge throughout Monday's game, scoring a run in the first inning, three in the second and two in the third and fourth to two in the second, third, and fourth innings for the Bachelors. Van Elsen of the married men allowed two hits and Courchane allowed eight. J. Le Blanc started for the former club, setting a homer, a double and a single, and scoring three times.

Tuesday's game the Bachelors came from behind in the fourth season and scored three runs and followed up with three in both the fifth and sixth innings.

The Married Men scored two runs in both the second and third innings, and one in the fourth and fifth. The Bachelors had ten hits and nine for the Married Men. Courchane and Hopkins played out a homer apiece for the latter club.

The batter—
Married Men—J. Van Elsen and J. Le Blanc; Bachelors, Courchane and Fowler.

Glad He Got Chance
Seattle owners are glad that "Lefty" O'Doul, their star outfielder, is going to get a major league trial with the Giants, who drafted the star.

LOOK OUT, WISCONSINI!

COACH JIMMY PHELAN OF PURDUE

Some Big Ten eleven is going to pay, and dearly at that, for that 7-6 tummying taken by Purdue from Chicago last week or else Coach Jimmy Phelan will wonder why. Phelan's Boiler-makers were jolted from their prestige by Chicago just one week after they humbled the Harvard Crimson at Cambridge. Purdue has one of her best teams in years, and should be troublesome for all opponents this season. The credit for it goes to Phelan, a product of Notre Dame.

WATCH ROCKNE FOR NEW GRIDIRON IDEA

Notre Dame's Willy Fox Expected to Show Something New Soon

BY BILLY EVANS
This football business is getting tougher for Knute Rockne of Notre Dame with the passing of each season.

In the first place, it seems that Rockne as a football coach not only develops great players but lays the fundamentals for successful coaches at the same time.

No less than 30 former Notre Dame players, who gained most of their knowledge of football under Rockne are now numbered as leading coaches in their respective sections.

Incidentally, during the summer months, Rockne, through the medium of various football schools, enlightens a lot of ambitious coaches on the system and methods that have made him one of the most famous mentors in the country.

Unless Knute is holding something in reserve, it looks as if he would have to originate some new grid styles. What's more, he is just the chap that can do it.

It is a rather interesting fact that in three of the pusets already recorded on the gridiron, former Rockne stars have played a leading role.

One of the most surprising form reversals of the present season was the defeat of Stanford, last year's Pacific Coast champions, by St. Mary's. This team is coached by "Ship" Madigan, who some years back starred for the "Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame.

From the south came Georgia, recognized as a strong team to show even better in the east than expected in winning from a potentially great Yale team, 14-10. The Georgia backfield, which cut up considerable against the Blue, is coached by one Mr. Crowley, a member of the once famous "Four Horsemen."

The third jolt was the defeat of Harvard by Purdue to the decisive tune of 19-0. Purdue, you will recall, is coached by Jimmy Phelan, who learned football at Notre Dame.

Thus, three of the biggest football upsets of the season, happening on the same Saturday, were engineered by Notre Dame-coached teams.

I am inclined to think that Knute Rockne will slip up something a bit different before the close of the present football season. He has such a habit.

It is a well known fact that the new rule relating to shift plays was largely aimed to slow up the offense. Rockne, annually built, featuring such plays.

The snap and precision with which Notre Dame in the past pulled the shift play kept the opposition constantly upset. It has been argued that Rockne teams beat the rules but officials never penalized Notre Dame any more than any other eleven.

I wouldn't be at all surprised if Rockne pulled something unique and original in an offensive way this season just to save the rulemakers something to worry about.

A coach with an inventive turn of mind, Rockne is always figuring on new methods that will disconcert the opposition and make the going easier for his charges.

APPLETON GRAPPLER LOSES TO OGONTON

Carl "Louis" Wilmet, Appleton, former middleweight strapping champion of the Army, Navy and Marine and present naval instructor at Lawrence college, dropped a match to Howard Blazer, of Ontario, former state middleweight champion, Tuesday evening at Wesley's Hall, Spruce, Blazer "as given the first fall on a toe hold in 17 minutes and the third on a catch hold in 7 minutes. Wilmet had the middle fall.

Blazer was state champion for the last three years, but he lost his crown to Joey McVey, Appleton star, about a month ago in a battle in northern Wisconsin.

GRANGE WILL PLAY AGAINST PACKERS

Reports Reach Bay That Famous Redhead Is Recovering Rapidly

Green Bay—According to a telegram received by A. B. Turnbull, president of the Green Bay Football corporation from Charles G. Pyle, manager of the New York Yankees, Red Grange was not hurt as badly as reported in the game against the Bears and he will be in condition to play against the Packers here on Sunday.

Pyle's telegram is as follows: "Grange not hurt as badly as reported. Will be in condition for next Sunday's game."

The news about Grange's banging in the Bear game traveled around the Green Bay football sector like wildfire and packer officials were kept busy all Monday answering queries about the famous Red-head. Several calls from Upper Michigan were made about the "Wheaton man."

Speaking about the Grange injury, President Turnbull of the Green Bay Football corporation had this to say: "The telegram from Mr. Pyle is the latest news we have about Grange. Pyle says Grange will be in condition to play Sunday and that is all we know aside from the news stories in the Chicago papers which said that Grange hoped to have recovered from his injury sufficiently to play against the Packers at Green Bay."

"We have requested Mr. Pyle to keep us in close touch on Grange's condition and the minute we get any reports, they will be published immediately."

"In the mean time, the Football corporation is going ahead with its plans to house the greatest crowd at the City stadium next Sunday that ever witnessed a football game in Wisconsin, outside of the 'U' contests at Madison."

"Our advance seat sale has been enormous, yet the Football corporation has hopes of having a seat for everyone. 'Arrangements' are now under way at the stadium and seats will be placed at every point of vantage around the playing field."

"Arrangements were completed last night for an additional 800 seats which will be set up at the east end of the gridiron. The stands at the west end of the field are being moved slightly to afford better view and to also provide for three rows of bench seats and a greatly enlarged standing room space."

"At the present figuring, we should be able to seat about 9,000 spectators at Sunday's Grange game and have a standing room for about 1,500 more. No standing room tickets will be sold, however, until every seat in the park has been disposed of."

YANKEES COMING STRONG
Chicago, Ill.—Despite the injury to Captain "Red" Grange the New York Yankees are all set to invade Green Bay this week end and hand a triumph to the famous Packers in order to get back into the race for title honors in the National Professional League. The defeat last Sunday at the hands of the Chicago Bears has not in the least disturbed the confidence of the Yankees, rather it has put into the players a greater spirit of determination than ever before. The players have also been considerably cheered by the announcement that the injuries to their fiery captain are not as serious as was first thought and that the chances are bright for his reappearance in the lineup against the Green Bay aggregation.

After the game "Red" went immediately to his home at Wheaton where he is receiving special treatment and is under the care of a doctor. He will take a complete rest for three or four days and by that time confidently expects to be able to get back into the lineup. During the time Grange is recuperating the team will Denny Osterbaan, the all-American left over from 1926 in scrubbing passes as faithfully as ever, but the season is still too young to tell whether a first class tosser can be found for the Michigan squad.

Coach Wilce has found a sophomore star in Arthur Huston at Ohio State and Jimmy Phelan has produced another at Purdue in Ralph Welch though Chicago halted Welch last Saturday. Except for these two and McCracken of Indiana the early game have not given much of a line on the season's stars.

PIRATE STAR SPENDS WINTER IN WISCONSIN

Tittsburg—(P)—Harold "Pie" Traynor Pirate captain and third baseman shuns the social whirl and as a result will spend the balance of the year in the wilds of Wisconsin instead of going to his home in Boston as has been his annual off-season custom.

Last winter the banquet and luncheon racket was overdone in Boston. Traynor has been quoted as saying "for one solid week I never went to bed before 2 o'clock in the morning."

Traynor Wednesday was on his way to his bungalow at Yellow Lake, Wis., where several other major league performers, including Burleigh Grimes and Bubbles Hargrave have retreated.

M'LARNIN BEATS KID KAPLIN IN HARD BOUT

Chicago, Ill.—(P)—Jimmy McLarnin's boxing fists beat a preliminary challenge to Sammy Mandell, the lightweight champion, when they knocked out Louis Kid Kaplan, former featherweight titleholder, in the eighth round Tuesday night.

McLarnin fought far ahead of the best things that had been said of him. Kaplan who was being polished for a chance at the lightweight title offered wild resistance at the start but faded under the McLarnin fists.

French Writer Decides Gene Should Raise Kids

Paris—"Gene" Tunney boxes very well, but he talks too much," says Clement Vautel, satirical columnist of Le Journal here. "We would like to see more of him, and hear less."

He objects to "this morbidist of blows" talking about the "highest type of man" in connection with boxing. He says: "Tunney appeals to exaggerate a little when he affirms that the art of smashing faces is, of all possible forms of human activity, the most dignified, the most noble and the most honorable."

Vautel is immensely amused by Tunney's attitude toward women when he champion says they do not interest him and that he proposes to concentrate his time and money to the higher things of life.

"This doesn't seem very polite," Vautel cries, "and I have always heard that America produces the most gallant men."

"Without a doubt, chastity is indispensable to a boxer who wishes to take good care of a pair of legs and to possess a thrust without reason, but a man is going far in repelling women with the intransigence of Gene Tunney."

"This boy only fulfills half his task in beating his rivals; he ought to take a beautiful type of woman and have children."

"Is not boxing like all other sports, a means to ameliorate the species—by producing the elite. If it is not, what is it then?"

Is this Tunney, so disdainful of the daughters of Eve, will surely flash by meeting one who will triumph over his defense and who will then score a knockout."

ST. MARY GRID SQUAD WINS FROM ST. JOSEPH

The St. Mary school fifth grade football team defeated the St. Joseph school fifth and sixth grades squad, 6-0 Tuesday afternoon at Jones park. John Glasheen, halfback, scored the winning touchdown on a live plunge. Other members of the winning team are Douglas Heicle, captain and quarterback, Dan Heicle, Milton Branchford, Elmo Vandenberg, Tom Long, Peter Van Lichout, Albert West, Harold Fredericks, Thomas Schneider and Robert Lally.

JACK LOCKWILL, THE LION TAMER

The running boys, who looked very frightened, were Buke Saunders and Lizard Wattles. Behind them, in hot pursuit, came a number of men, the leader of whom was shouting: "Stop 'em! Nab 'em! They're automobile thieves!" Jack Lockwill left the side of Raoul Delano and dashed into the path of the fugitives. He tripped Lizard and grappled with Buke.

"Loggo of me, dam yer!" panted the big fellow, trying to break Lockwill's hold and throw him down. With a twist and a snap, Jack dashed Buke to the ground.

The leader of the pursuit jumped on the partly stunned boy, while another man seized Wattles. Buke and Lizard, to their dismay, were quickly handcuffed together.

"They're pretty young to be automobile thieves," commented one of the group of men. "That's what they are, though," asserted a farmerish man. "They stole the filver of my neighbor, Obediah Tuttle, and smashed it up just outside this town. I p'inted 'em out to the deputy-sheriff." "Which is me," said the man who had led the pursuers, showing his badge. (To Be Continued)

Chief Oshkosh Details History Of His Tribe

Special to Post-Crescent.
Clintonville—Reginald Oshkosh of Keshena, a grandson of the old chief and himself the nominal head of the Menominee tribe today, was the speaker at the Rotary club luncheon Monday.

He came dressed in his chieftain's costume, near all of which had been assembled and worn by his grandfather. Among his personal adornments were two necklaces, one made up of eagle's claws and the other composed of elk's teeth, both of which were heirlooms. The latter told the story of deeds performed by members of the tribe during the entire lifetime of his grandfather. Whenever a brave had performed some meritorious deed, as a mark of recognition of his achievement, he was allowed to add an elk's tooth to the chain. Each tooth represented a different elk, and also a different brave. The speaker was introduced by Otto Olen, who is a recognized authority on Indian lore in this community.

The chief reviewed the history of the Algonquin Indians, of which the Menominee tribe is a part. Addressing the club as "fellow Americans," he said that the Indians were good, loyal citizens and that the Menominee reservation was now on a paying basis.

INDIAN QUARTET AT LION CLUB PROGRAM

Organization Requests Action on Measure to Aid Blind in Wisconsin

Special to Post-Crescent.
New London—A male quartet of Oneida Indians, presenting a program of native songs, entertained the members of the Lion's club at their weekly luncheon hour at the Elwood hotel on Tuesday. The singers, who are now engaged in various activities on the reservation, are graduates of Carlely university. Songs in the Indian language, together with Negro spirituals, composed their program.

The health bill for adult blind of the state was one of the main issues of the luncheon hour. Fifteen thousand dollars has been the annual allowance set aside by the state for the care and education of the blind. Governor Zimmerman's recent veto of the bill leaves no available funds to be used for this purpose. Lions throughout the state have always given their support of this project and, through a petition which is to be presented to Governor Zimmerman, they will ask that in the special fall session he will give his support to the bill. New London Lions added their club signature to the others.

OPEN LEGION DRIVE IN EIGHTH STATE DISTRICT

Special to Post-Crescent.
Waupaca—In a circular letter addressed to every post in the Eighth congressional district, by A. M. Christofferson of Waupaca, vice commander of the Eighth district of the Wisconsin American legion, opened a membership campaign this week that will involve every district in the state.

Calling upon each post to make every effort to sign up as many members as possible before the close of the fiscal year, Nov. 1, he reminds them that the trophies offered by the state department and by state officials as well as the greatest number of seats for delegates to the 1928 State Convention at Wausau are within the reach of the Eighth district.

Dr. Christofferson, who is acting head of the Eighth district during the absence of Ferdinand Hixxy of Stevens Point, now in France with the American Legion, states that he expects competition from every district in the state but more especially from the Sixth. The Sixth won the last year with the Eighth a close second. The Eighth, however, was successful in securing the location of the 1928 convention at Wausau.

The Waupaca post of the legion, with Dr. Christofferson as commander, has been particularly active in legion circles and acquired distinction by securing the passage of the bill at the last session of the state legislature opening the doors of the Wisconsin Veterans Home at Waupaca to world war veterans. The post also gave valuable support to Colonel Turner when he secured an appropriation of $175,000 for the building of a one hundred bed hospital at the Soldiers Home. STEELE DISPOSES OF HIS STOCK IN PETTIBONE STORE

Former President and General Manager Severs Connection With Institution

Sale of his stock in the Pettibone-Peabody Co. to the George F. Peabody estate by J. D. Steele, formerly president and general manager of the corporation, was approved Tuesday by Judge Fred V. Heinemann of probate court at a periodical hearing in the trust estate. It is reported that almost $100,000 was involved in the transaction. The sale of Mr. Steele's holdings marks his complete retirement from the company with which he was associated since 1904. He became president and general manager immediately after the death of Mr. Peabody in 1909 and held those offices until March 2 this year. Mr. Steele also was one of three trustees of the Peabody will which bequeathed large sums of money to the city of Appleton, the Y. M. C. A., Lawrence college and to a corporation to be organized for operating an Old Ladies' home. The estate now holds approximately 80 per cent of the stock in the Pettibone-Peabody Co. and owns the real estate which the store occupies.

Mr. Steele, a native of Appleton, spent much of his youth in the east. He returned to Appleton in 1904 to become associated with Mr. Peabody in the Pettibone-Peabody Co. and after Mr. Peabody's death he was elected president and general manager of the company in accordance with a wish expressed by Mr. Peabody in his will.

The Peabody will, filed in county court in 1909, made public bequests aggregating $250,000 but an appraisal of his estate fixed the value at only $154,000. The will provided, however, that the bequests were to become effective only after the death of his daughter, Mrs. Emma Peabody Harper, and during the intervening years since 1909 the value of the estate has increased from approximately $154,000 to between $500,000 and $700,000.

The will provides that if the estate is valued at more than the sum required to pay the specific bequests when the property is liquidated each of the beneficiaries shall share pro-rata in the surplus amount. It is understood that the estate now is worth about three times as much as the specific bequests and if it were liquidated at this time the beneficiaries could receive approximately three times as much as the sums in Mr. Peabody's will. Thus the Y. M. C. A., which was bequeathed $25,000, would receive in the neighborhood of $75,000 and the Old Ladies' home for which $75,000 was provided, will benefit to the extent of $225,000. Lawrence college was left $25,000 for a girls' hospital and this sum now is increased to $75,000.

The present estimated value of the Peabody estate includes its real estate holdings, some of which were acquired through Mr. Steele's instrumentality. His investments in real estate for the benefit of the estate have largely increased in value and are in a measure at the expense of the real estate and stock in the Pettibone-Peabody Co., the estate also owns securities said to be worth in excess of $100,000.

The Pettibone-Peabody Co., since 1909, developed into one of the largest mercantile establishments in Wisconsin outside of Milwaukee. It grew the large building at the corner of College and W. Appleton-st. and a property was acquired at the west side of Appleton-st. for an annex, connected with the main building by a tunnel under the street. Later the estate acquired a building on the east side of the main structure to assure space for still further expansion.

Mr. Steele has made no statement concerning his plans for the future. He expects to be absent about ten days on a business trip to the east.

Mr. Gettle declared the commission here was composed of unusually high type men and their operation of the utility indicated a careful study of their problems and a thorough knowledge of utility operation. He especially commended the way the finances of the utility were managed and referred specifically to the surplus which has been created to care for replacements and expansion in the plant.

CHARGE ANGRY MAN BROKE BIG WINDOW

Black Creek Drink Shop Proprietor Gets Warrant for Sherwood Man's Arrest

A warrant was issued Wednesday morning by John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, for the arrest of Paul Apitz, Sherwood, on a charge of breaking a plate glass window in a drink shop in Black Creek Tuesday night. Dewart is the complainant. Charles Steidl, county motorcycle officer, was sent to Sherwood to arrest Apitz.

According to Mr. Dewart two men entered his place of business about 11:45 and demanded "something hard to drink." He said he told them he sold nothing but soft drinks but they insisted and became angry when he refused to comply with their requests. They left the place in anger and started their car, which was parked in front. As they drove off one of the men hurled a bottle through a plate glass window. The bottle narrowly missed Mr. Dewart's head.

Dewart ran outside and started his own car and chased the men. Although he could not catch them he secured a description of the car. It was a D-91050 and had been issued to Paul Apitz, Sherwood. It was on this evidence that the warrant was issued for Apitz's arrest.

WOMAN SUES AGAIN TO RECOVER $1,500 FROM REALTY DEALER

Katie Fritsch's Third Action Against P. A. Kornely Opens in Municipal Court

A suit for $1,500 damages opened in the upper branch of municipal court Wednesday morning Katie Fritsch, Appleton, is seeking to recover that amount from P. A. Kornely, local real estate dealer. She charges Kornely lost the money by investing in a western land company without her consent. The case originally was tried before Judge Fred V. Heinemann in February, 1925 and Mrs. Fritsch was awarded $900. Kornely contested the decision, however, and carried his appeal to the supreme court which decided Kornely had a right to a jury trial. The case was tried again in municipal court here but the jury disagreed.

Mrs. Fritsch alleges she purchased a mortgage for $1,500 from Kornely, and that sometime later he gave her $75 which she thought was interest on the mortgage. Kornely claims, however, she authorized him to purchase seven shares in the Tiffin City Land company, Minneapolis, Minn., at $125 per share and that the $75 was the balance of her $1,500, which remained after the purchase.

Members of the jury are: E. Weissgerber, 215 E. Vine; August Zimmler, 408 E. Randall; August Zimmler, 517 N. Durkee; E. A. Potter, 713 E. Brewster; E. H. Miller, 715 N. Appleton; Fred Kapelke, 323 W. Prospect; C. F. Selig, 334 E. Randall; Arthur Nofke, 322 E. Walter; F. M. Shoenberger, 231 E. Meade; Fred Calhoun, 733 W. Summer; Paul Sell, 309 N. Morrison; Mitchell D. Plette, 206 W. McKinley-st.

ASK SHERIFF TO WATCH FOR STORE BURGLAR

Sheriff Otto Zuehlke has been asked to watch for a man who robbed the Kreeland-McLure Lumber company store at Morse last Thursday noon and escaped with $1,435.96 in cash and checks. The checks were written by the company for workmen and were drawn on the First National bank of Phillips. They were numbered from 49362 to 49355.

BURGLARS GET $105 IN 3 COUNTY RAIDS

heard the report when the safe was blown open if he had been on duty. The Platten office was entered through the front door, probably with the aid of a skeleton key. A small safe standing in one corner, was attacked by the burglars who drilled a tiny hole in the door and inserted nitro-glycerine. It is thought. The charge blew off the door. In addition to the small amount of the cash the men secured an old Spanish coin dated 1775. This coin was considered quite valuable by Mr. Platten. They also secured a large copper penny, a silver three-cent piece and a nickel and dime which Mr. Platten had secured from the mint at Denver, Col. They ransacked the Platten office but took nothing else.

Mr. Platten said this was the second time his office has been entered within the last year. The first time, which was last winter, the burglars secured about $50. Since that time, he said, little money has been kept in the safe overnight.

After leaving the Platten office the burglars went to the Diestler Lumber company office where they also gained entrance through the front door with the aid of skeleton keys. They attempted to open the large safe by chiseling off the hinges and locks but they made little progress. It is thought they were afraid to use nitro-glycerine in this instance because it would have taken a large charge to blow off the door and the report would have aroused the sleeping villagers. There was about $30 in this safe. The Diestler office was entered about 12 years ago when the burglars secured about $7 in cash.

At the Oik and Marks Grain Elevator office the burglars entered by breaking the lock on the front door. The safe had been left open but there was nothing of value inside. The office was ransacked but nothing taken.

GET FINGERPRINTS

Sergeant James Moore, finger print expert of the Appleton police department, was sent to Hortonville Wednesday morning to inspect marks left by the burglars.

Sheriff Zuehlke said he was convinced the robbery at the Kraus residence was committed by a man who was familiar with the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Kraus and two of their three small children were working in a field near the house and a third child, a seven-year-old daughter, was in bed on the second floor of the house. She had been ill but recovered sufficiently to be left alone. Mrs. Kraus said she locked all the doors and went to the field to help her husband. The key to the side door was hidden beneath a milk pail on the porch.

Whoever entered the house found the key under the pail, opened the door and went directly to the side board and took the purse from under a table cloth. Nothing else in the house was disturbed and $22.50 in a dish alongside the tablecloth beneath which the purse with the $100 was hidden was not touched.

When the man entered the house the little girl upstairs heard him and asked who was there. She received no answer, and it is believed that the marauder was frightened from the premises.

MISS MUELLER IN PLEASING RECITAL

Conservatory Atrist Presents Excellent Program in Lawrence Chapel

With an artistry that was convincing and musical in all its aspects, Miss Helen Mueller, instructor in voice at Lawrence Conservatory of Music, gave a program of the very best examples of the classic and modern schools of songs Wednesday evening in Lawrence Memorial chapel.

Miss Mueller's voice is an unusually rich contralto of extended range and is responsive to every interpretative demand made upon it. Its lower range gives rich, melodious tones; its higher notes take on an added brilliancy. Her interpretations display a fine musical style.

Outstanding numbers of Miss Mueller's program were the "Deh pi u Me" by Bononcini and "Danza" by Durante in the Italian group; "Und Willst du deinet Liebesten sterben sehen" and "Heimweh," both by Hugo Wolf in the German group; "L'Heure Exquise" and "Nocturne" in the French group; and "Ave Maria" but a day" and "Erie Fogg's "Peace" in the English group.

Miss Mueller added encore at the close of the program including "My Ain Folk" by Laura Lemmon. Mrs. Nettie Fullinwider played the accompaniments which added greatly to the success of the recital.

STOCKS MOVE DOWN AFTER EARLY GAINS

Numerous Selling Orders Depress Market After Firm Opening

New York—(AP)—Stock prices displayed a firm tone at the opening of Wednesday's market. The first sale of Radio was a block of 10,000 shares at 73 1/2 up one, and a new high record. Radio opened one-half point higher in response to the devaluation of the regular dividend previously reported in danger, and before the market had time to reflect the omission of the dividend. The unexpected large increase in radio production last week increased new strength in the oil shares which moved upward under the leadership of General Asphalt and Houston. Special buying also took place in the southwestern rails. Radio and Pathe A quickly extended their initial gains to about 2 points each. Case jumped 5 points in the early trading. Sharp recessions in Spanish pesos and a weak foreign exchange market. Demand sterling and French francs held firm around $4.86 and 3.22 cents, respectively. The dollar was steady at 15.00 cents. The Coudage survey of the business situation was more optimistic, the market running on a wave of selling orders which depressed the market to 60 lower. 1725 paid for Dupont 41. Dodge Brothers common and preferred touched new minimums for the year at 15 and 35, respectively. The renewed rate for call loans was reduced from 4 1/2 to 4 per cent. The closing was steady. Total sales approximately 2,700,000 shares.

DEFENDS FREE SPACE IN NEWSPAPERS FOR "PRO" SPORT STORIES

"What Public, Not Publishers.
Demands Is Required." A.
P. President Says

(Chicago—AP)—A defense of the attitude of the newspapers toward professional sports was given here Wednesday by T. R. Starbuck, Wisconsin State president of the Associated Press and co-publisher of the Racine Journal News, before the Inland Press association. He said that the "attitude of the public toward the recent Tunney-Dempsey bout proved that the masses are interested in such affairs."

"There is only one way to look at this question," said Mr. Starbuck. "It is not what the publisher wants but what the readers want. I believe the recent Tunney-Dempsey fight proved conclusively that the masses are interested in professional sport. Certainly there was a contest that was commercialized from start to finish and I do not believe that the support of the press was the main factor in arousing interest."

"In Racine there are possibly 6500 radio sets and if 50 per cent were not tuned in on the fight that night then I'm a poor guesser."

Admitting my own non-attendance at certain professional games that does not mean I am not interested and I think the same thing applies to many others. I know many people who read the stock market reports daily, but would never think of risking a dollar. "The trouble with some of us newspaper men is that realizing the so-called commercialism of professional sports we don't like the idea of giving up so much space to it without those back of the affairs spending some of the money in buying our advertising space. That is a regrettable feature."

OBJECTION TO SPORTS

"I have heard one objection raised to so much sports and that is the disposition of advertisers to go on sport pages. Racine is primarily a working man's town; there are thousands of young men in the 'actor's. Even before the day of the radio we have had six trunk lines busy every afternoon of the post-season ball games. What did that mean?"

"We naturally like to talk about the pureness of amateur sports but again in a rapidly increasing number of cases that is a misnomer. Certainly college football is commercialized enough, even though the players get nothing for their services; our city basketball and indoor baseball teams have to have their uniforms furnished by some enterprising merchant or manufacturer and admission is charged."

"So we get down to a pretty narrow range of sports when we dismiss the professional and the college amateur who fights for his alma mater where 50,000 people pay large sums to see him perform. Last year over eight thousand bowlers in Wisconsin came to Racine in a four week period and compete for prizes. They received money awards, so I presume that makes them professionals. How is that for interest?"

"The press may have created a Frankenstein monster, but it is here and apparently cannot be destroyed. We can never get away from the fact that the newspaper is the pur-

MRS. PRESTON, NOT MRS. MERKEL, FIRST WOMAN TO GET PERMIT

Through an error Mrs. George Merkel, Tomahawk, was reported in last Friday's issue of the Post-Crescent as the first woman to receive a hunting license in Outagamie county. Mrs. E. W. Preston of Appleton was the first woman to receive a license, according to John L. Hantschel, county clerk. Records now on file at Mr. Hantschel's office reveal that 16 women in the county have received licenses. There may be more who have received permits but all the recent stubs have not been turned in it is not possible to secure their names, Mr. Hantschel said.

Those who received licenses were as follows: Viola Lembeck, Lorena Lorenzen, Elva T. Lanning, Mrs. Mary A. Montgomery, Elbert B. Merkel, Mrs. E. C. May, Mrs. Louise Millard, Mrs. H. W. Perske, June Stevens, Dina Timm, Helen Glaspay and Mrs. A. J. Hermann, Appleton; Mrs. John Smith, Little Chute; Genevieve Spanner and Maud Wolf, Kaukauna.

Muddy Hen Isn't A Real 'Mud Hen,' Hunters Learn

Fishermen have often been known to buy fish from boys and take them home to friend wife as proof of their day's skill, but nowadays duck hunters have taken to buying tame ducks shooting them and taking them home for a similar purpose. At any rate here the story that is going the rounds about two Appleton men.

The two hunters went up to the point and the marshes near there a few days ago intent on bringing down a couple ducks. But they didn't even see a duck let alone get close enough to shoot one.

Two good duck hunters, however, should never return home without a kill and the Appleton men were sorely puzzled finally one of them hit upon the idea that they buy four ducks from a farmer shoot them and then take two. But a guilty conscience bothered our two hunters and they thought a mud hen would make the story sound better.

A few miles down the road they saw a small brown hen intently digging in a farm yard and decided that there was the answer to their quest for a mud hen. Buying the chicken they killed it and rolled it in the mud to make it a real "mud hen."

Arriving back home the two hunters told their stories of killing the ducks and things went over perfectly. That is all except one thing—some one stole the "mud hen" and quered the story. Now the hunters are out gunning for another kind of bird.
